

Hello everyone! Welcome to Operation: Let's Play. I hope you are ready to laugh and play with us today as we jump into an awesome game of Rock, Paper, Scissors. Did you know that some version of this game has been played for over 2000 years! Today we are going to look at how to play the basic version of this game and then learn a few of the ways that you can take it to the next level. I know you are ready for the challenge so let's get to it.

Materials:

Great thing about this activity is that all you need is yourself and a friend to play with. It is important to remember the three different signs that you can give.

Rock: Shown by a closed fist.

Paper: Shown by an open hand

Scissors: Shown with two fingers out looking like a pair of scissors

Each answer that you can give will win against one of the other signs and will lose against the other sign. Here is the answer to which sign will win:

Rock beats Scissors
Scissors beat Paper
Paper beats Rock

Let's Play!

To play you will count down from 3 and then show your sign as you both say "go"

"3.. 2.. 1.. GO!"

Challenge:

Here are a few different styles and themes that you can apply to this game.

Full Body commitment

Rock = Curl up like a ball/rock

Paper = Spread your legs and arms out as wide as you can

Scissors = Take your arms and make a cutting action in front of you. Just as if your arms were the two sides of scissors

Verbal game

You can give your answers verbally at the same time as one another without hand signs
