FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: December 7th, 2022

Victory Junction Releases Schedule for Spring and Summer 2022 Programming (Randleman, North Carolina) Victory Junction is excited to announce its 2022 spring and summer camp schedule. Applications are now open for campers, families, volunteers, and seasonal staff. Victory Junction will continue to implement COVID-19 protocols to help ensure safety for campers, families and staff.

Programming for the spring and summer will be structured so that campers and families can enjoy camp safely as Victory Junction begins to transition back to its traditional programs. Victory Junction will offer family retreats in the spring, where campers with eligible diagnoses can bring their families to camp for a weekend of fun.

Summer programming will be a mixture of family retreats and traditional overnight camp sessions. The first half of the summer will consist of family retreats, similar to those offered in the spring. For the second half of the summer, camp sessions will move to a traditional overnight camp setting. Children with similar diagnoses can come to these sessions without their families for a week of camp experiences.

To help programming run smoothly, VJ is also searching for volunteers and seasonal staff. Volunteers can help with both spring and summer sessions, and they can commit to multiple sessions if they choose. Seasonal staff will be employed with Victory Junction for the entirety of the summer.

All Applications (family, camper, volunteer, and seasonal staff) opened December 1st. To view all requirements, dates, and the applications, please visit: victoryjunction.org/camp-updates.

*All scheduled programming is subject to change as we monitor the COVID-19 virus and make the best decisions for our campers, families, volunteers, and seasonal staff.
