Adam's Dream, Our Foundation

Victory Junction was born from the dream of Adam Petty, a fourth-generation race car driver from the legendary Petty family and a rising star in motorsports. While Adam's passion for racing ran deep, his compassion for others ran even deeper. Between races, he found joy in visiting children in pediatric hospitals, forming connections that left a lasting impression on everyone around him.

After Adam's tragic passing in a racing accident, his family and friends came together to carry forward the dream he held close to his heart: a place where children with complex medical and physical needs could experience the joy, freedom, and adventure of Camp. That dream became reality when Victory Junction opened its gates in 2004.
